Peers Inc: Zip Car CEO and MIT alum Robin Chase to give a talk to students, alum and friends

Monday, September 14

Robin Chase, co-founder/ex-CEO of Zipcar and one of Time's 100 Most Influential People in the World, illuminates the potential of the collaborative economy to address broader issues such as climate change and income inequality, and proves the impact that this innovative force can have on these most pressing economic and social issues of our time.

Followed by Intimate dinner with Robin at 7:30 PM; admission by lottery at the event.

Robin Chase

Robin Chase is co-founder of Zipcar and three other companies: Veniam, Buzzcar, and GoLoco. She was named one of Time's 100 Most Influential People in the World, a BusinessWeek Top Ten Designer, a Fast Company Champion of Innovation and has been featured in the New York Times, NPR, Today, Wired, Forbes, Inc and Newsweek. Chase is a graduate of Wellesley College and the MIT Sloan School and has been a Harvard University Loeb Fellow. She lives in Cambridge.

When: Monday, September 14, 2015
Where: 10-250, MIT Campus, Cambridge

Agenda:
5:45 pm, Registration
6:00 pm, Talk and Q&A
7:00 pm, Talk ends and book signing
7:30 pm, Dinner with Robin (by lottery)

Cost: Free for all MIT students, alum, and friends